

 University of California, Berkeley
Bachelor's in Computer Science, May 2018

 (559) 930-5717
 imranajami@gmail.com
 linkedin.com/in/imran-jami/

Salesforce

Full Stack Software Engineer (MTS)

July 2018 - Present

- Used JavaScript to build a data visualization application, generating $10M+ in revenue 6mos after launch
- Implemented component-based UI architecture with responsive UI, infinite scroll, and async data loading
- Utilized Spring framework to write robust UI/API code handling edge cases for accounts with 10,000+ users
- Practiced test-driven development writing both Unit & Integration tests along with Selenium automation
- Designed & implemented scalable database schemas and scheduled Cron jobs for data collection
- Served as Scrum Master, and worked closely with Product owners to ensure transparency with engineers
- Improved the team's onboarding documentation, cutting ramp-up time from 1 week to 1 day

Full Stack Software Engineering Intern

May - August 2017

- Used JavaScript + Aura to develop a file import application for users to upload custom security settings
- Helped launch an analytics tool to highlight security vulnerabilities for all accounts on the platform

Glassdoor

Software Engineering Intern

May - August 2016

- Coded an interactive map in JavaScript with Google Maps API to visualize commute times to future jobs
- Used Hibernate for fluid communication with MySQL database, and wrote Spring-configured Java code

Stroll Health

Software Engineering Intern

January - May 2016

- Used AngularJS to create a platform for patients to find cost-effective clinics for medical procedures

Jami Apparel

Founder + Creative Director

January 2019 - Present

- Designed clothing, graphics, website UI, branding, and marketing campaigns using Facebook Advertising
- Reached over 150,000+ people, generated $23,000 in revenue and have been endorsed by Kumail Nanjiani from the TV show, Silicon Valley
- Collaborated with Paani Project to provide support for underprivileged youth in Pakistan + COVID-19 relief